Affordable 25GB hosted email, contacts & calendars

CloudMail™ provides a robust email hosting solution for companies that don't maintain their own e-mail server. CloudMail will act as the primary mail server for your domain, handling both inbound and outgoing email. Send and receive email via our secure webmail console or with a desktop or mobile client via POP/IMAP connection. Calendar/contact syncing are handled by CalDAV and CardDAV.

All the business features you need

Robust email security

CloudMail is protected by CloudFilter™ Total Email Security. Users can access their spam quarantine to release messages, and you can easily manage compliance rules that fit your company policies. CloudFilter gives you automatic email protection.

Massive 25GB mailboxes

Unlike many other providers, Cloud-Mail doesn't max out at 1GB of space and then charge a fortune for more. With 25 gigs of storage you'll never have to worry about your inboxes running out of space. No more "inbox full" messages.
Access from anywhere

Manage your email in your favorite desktop client or smartphone via POP3/IMAP, or login to our webmail console. CloudMail is platform independent, so you and your end users are free to benefit from email hosting in the way that fits you best.

Easy to use webmail included

CloudMail lets your users login to the webmail console to send and receive email just as they would through a desktop client. Our webmail interface is user-friendly and works so well that no complicated instructions are needed. CloudMail's webmail platform also provides a great way for your users to manage contacts, calendars, out-of-office auto reply messages, and other valuable items.

Fast setup and deployment

CloudMail setup is extremely easy. All that's required is an MX record change on your end. Plus, because it's cloud-based, there's no hardware or software required on your end, and CloudMail is compatible across all platforms - PC, Mac or Linux.

Lower costs with hybrid CloudMail/Exchange accounts

If a handful of your users absolutely require the use of Hosted Exchange, we make it easy to accommodate them. On our web console you can mix and match CloudMail and Exchange email accounts to meet the specific needs of your users. This allows for you to potentially save thousands of dollars per year compared to a pure Microsoft Exchange setup.
